

GREAT BRITAIN WINS DIPLOMATIC VICTORY IN NEAR EAST PARLEY

England's Maneuvers to Have Future Status of Mosul Settled Privately Are Successful—Has Rich Petroleum Resources.

Lausanne, Nov. 27.—Great Britain won a diplomatic victory in the Near East peace conference today when the committee on territorial matters side stepped the settlement of the Mosul question. This means that the future status of Mosul with its vast deposits of petroleum will be settled privately, which has been the aim of the British delegates all along.

Lord Curzon, British foreign secretary, and head of the British peace delegation held a long conference with Ismet Pasha, chief of the Turkish delegation. It was assumed that the Mosul problem was the subject discussed.

Previously it had been reported that the British were willing to make widespread concessions to Turkey in exchange for the right to develop the great Mosul petroleum fields. Chief of these concessions were:

- 1—Recognition of Turkish sovereignty over Mosul and support for Turkey in the rectification of the eastern Turkish frontiers.
- 2—Assistance for Turkey in floating a great international loan after the treaty is drawn and signed.
- 3—Following the breaking up of the conference, it was reported that not only Mosul but practically all the big questions had been tacitly settled by Curzon and Ismet, leaving only the matter of actual peace between Turkey and Greece to the disposition of the conference in plenary session.

The financial commission met this afternoon.

OHIO BANKERS TO AID GOVERNMENT IN BOND REDEMPTION IN STATE

More Than One Hundred Millions of Dollars to Be Distributed in Ohio For Liberty Bonds and W. S. S.

Columbus, Nov. 27.—"The Ohio Bankers' Association," with its 1,200 member banks, stands ready to aid the United States Treasury Department to the fullest extent in effecting the redemption of liberty bonds and war savings stamps falling due December 15 and January 1," declared S. A. Roach, Columbus, secretary of the association, today.

"The council of administration of the association, acting for the banks has adopted a resolution tendering the government the services and banking house facilities of the banks for the redemption of these securities," continued Roach.

"The banks are willing to render such help that the payments to be made by the government upon the maturity of these securities will be effected with the least inconvenience possible to the holders of the same."

"During the war, Ohio banks were the chief agencies for the sale of all government securities," said W. H. Yeasting, Toledo, president of the association. "Now that these securities are being redeemed, the banks stand ready to reverse the process and pay the money again into the hands of those who came forward and assisted in paying the expense of the war," he declared.

"The banks also offer their services and advice to those receiving funds to the end that those funds may be safely reinvested."

"It is estimated that the redemption of liberty bonds and war savings stamps will mean a distribution of more than $100,000,000 in Ohio by the government. There are more than $60,000,000 of war savings stamps alone in Ohio territory."

"It is feared that many people will regard this realization of both principal and interest upon an investment made five years ago, as 'easy money' and spend it with corresponding ease. With so much ready cash in sight, unscrupulous promoters and investment sharks will be tempted to get busy, and against these the council urges the public to be on its guard," said Secretary Roach.

GIVE SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY TO JURY IN HALL-MILLS CASE

Maids in Hall Home Appear Again Monday for Questioning.

Somerville, N. J., Nov. 27.—The Grand Jury investigating the murders on September 14, of Rev. Dr. Edward W. Hall, and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, today was being given the most sensational testimony deputy attorney General Wilbur A. Mott has to offer.

Upon the session begun today depends whether or not a woman and two men are to be indicted in the murders. The final evidence of motive that could have actuated the murderer or murderers will be presented.

Louise Geist and Barbara Tough, maids in the Hall home, appeared again today. They are expected to tell their version of Mrs. Hall's movements on the murder night, as well as the attitude of the rector and his wife toward each other. Mrs. Jane Gibson, the "pig woman" Mott's star witness is yet to be called. Indictments, if there are to be any, are expected by Wednesday.

Mrs. Anna K. Bearman, a cousin of Mrs. Hall and a member of the church was the first witness called. She was questioned for a few minutes and was followed by Ralph Gorsline, a vestryman prominently mentioned in the case.

Gorsline, reports have consistently held, had visited Mrs. Hall on the afternoon of September 14 with another woman, and had turned over a small package to Mrs. Hall. The contents of that package, believed by the officials to have been the passionate love letters found strewn over the dead bodies of the pair, was what he was questioned on, it is understood.

Secretary Of Labor Will Pass On Request Of Girl

Young Unwed Mother Seeks Entrance Into this Country and Unfolds Plan of Kansas City Couple to Befriend Her

Washington, Nov. 27.—The admission of Nancy Jordan, young unwed mother and her three year old child, to the United States was ordered today by the immigration bureau of the department of labor. Miss Jordan will not be permitted to leave Ellis Island, however, until she has deposited bonds of $500 each for herself and the child.

New York, Nov. 27.—Upon the Secretary of Labor rests today whether or not there is to be created one of the strangest families in the history of America.

If the secretary decided that Miss Nancy Jordan of London may be admitted, the young unwed mother will be given a home by Frank Warren, of Kansas City, Mo., lawyer and his wife, Mary. They have agreed to adopt Miss Jordan's son, Francis, a snappy youngster of three and a half years.

Miss Jordan is waiting impatiently on Ellis Island where the authorities have detained her. She is confident the secretary will admit her and that then the four will live happily in Kansas City where she has vowed to "live down" her one mistake.

Throughout all her testimony before a special board of inquiry, the refined young mother laid heavy emphasis on her wish that no suspicion be cast upon the lawyer for her plight.

She met him when he was with the United States forces abroad, she said, and he sympathized with her.

"She says she will give me a place by her hearthstone," Miss Jordan continued, "and will adopt my little boy. Was there ever such ennobling altruism between two women? Surely the one chance of living down my mistake and providing for my little boy will be not denied me."

The mother said she had parents living in London.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 27.—"If there is any legal way in which it can be done, Nancy Jordan will be admitted to the United States and given a home in Kansas City with Mrs. Warren."

Thus Frank G. Warren, attorney, today announced his intention of lending all possible aid to his former wife, Mrs. Mary Van Trump Warren, from whom he was divorced two years ago, in carrying out her desire to open up the gates of Ellis Island for the little London mother and to give her and her young son, Francis, a home.

Today Mrs. Warren is speeding eastward to New York to be present at the hearing tomorrow which will determine whether immigration officials will concede from their intentions to deport her. When she arrives in New York, Mrs. Warren, according to her former husband, will exhaust every legal resource to prevent the deportation of the young mother and her child and, if successful will bring them back to Kansas City with her where they will be given a home.

The fight of his former wife for the admission of Nancy Jordan and her child has his active support, Warren said. "When they get here, they will live with Mrs. Warren," he stated.

Warren and his wife were divorced two years ago. Mrs. Warren lives with her mother and has a considerable fortune, in her own right. Her father is R. W. Van Trump, a capitalist. Warren lives with his mother.

DISCUSS MEASURES TO GRANT RELIEF TO U. S. FARMERS

Senator Watson and President Harding Go Over Situation.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Measures to relieve the financial plight of the farmers and curb profiteering, particularly in food and clothing, were discussed with President Harding by Senator Watson of Indiana.

The visit of the Indiana senator to the white house followed a conference in his office at which a number of senators from western states talked over a possible legislative program acceptable to the west.

Picturing to the president how the farmers generally are unable to get enough for their crops to pay for harvesting and shipping while consumers pay high prices, Senator Watson urged the immediate necessity of some forceful program to put agriculture on its feet and squeeze out the long line of profit taking between producer and consumer.

Senator Watson's view is that any program of relief for the farmer must go further than the questions of freight rates, interest rates and tariff rates. Mr. Watson told the president that he favored the program of agricultural credits, but feared it would not strike at the root of the question.

ORDER STOCK DIVIDEND

Findlay, O., Nov. 27.—Directors of the Ohio Oil company, following action of stockholders of the corporation in authorizing an increase in the capital stock of from $15,000,000 to $60,000,000, ordered issuance of the entire increase as a stock dividend, payable on or about Dec. 30, to stockholders of record Dec. 1.

PRESIDENT WILL PLACE AGRICULTURE AND LABOR ISSUES BEFORE CONGRESS

Harding's Forthcoming Message to the Regular Session of the 67th Congress Will Deal With Important Problems.

Washington, Nov. 27.—President Harding's forthcoming message to the regular session of the 67th Congress, which opens on a week from today, will be devoted chiefly to discussion of three critical domestic problems—agriculture, relief, the transportation situation and enforcement of the prohibition laws, it was learned today.

Those who have discussed with Mr. Harding the framework of his message, predict it will be the "most progressive" presentation of facts and recommendations that Mr. Harding has yet delivered to the congress.

The "regular" Republicans have no intention of allowing Senator La Follette's personally conducted progressive conference, which meets here on December 1, to run away with the progressive thought of the country.

The organization Senators know in advance about what trend the La Follette progressives shall take in denunciation of a legislative program and while they do not intend to be carried off their feet by the blare of the music they nevertheless do intend that the organization program shall carry an appeal "to the enlightened progressive thought of the country" as one administration Senator expressed it.

Discussion of the organization program will be begun in earnest at the White House this week between President Harding and the "big five" of the administration senatorial forces—Lodge, of Massachusetts, Watson of Indiana, Curtis, of Kansas, Smoot, of Utah, and Cummins, of Iowa.

It is expected President Harding will make a frank bid for agricultural support for the administration's transportation program by linking together the agricultural distress and the railroad question.

It has been suggested to the president that he bluntly tell the farmers in his message that most of their distress is due to high freight rates and interrupted transportation—the near breakdown and congestion that came during and immediately following the shopmen's strike.

If freight rates are to come down and badly needed equipment added to the railroads, then railroad wages must come down, the president is expected to say and the only way to get railroad wages down is to give the railway labor board power to enforce freight rate cuts. By thus interweaving the two problems, the administration will launch an appeal that a number of organization Senators believe will find ready support in the agricultural regions of the west.

How to more adequately enforce the prohibition laws is a problem that is causing much concern. Thus far no acceptable program has been found and several more cabinet meetings, as well as presidential conferences will be devoted to this question before Mr. Harding is prepared to make concrete recommendations.

HARDING'S SHIP SUBSIDY BILL IN STORMY WATERS

Congressmen From Middle West and South Enter Fight on Measure

Washington, Nov. 27.—The administration's ship subsidy bill ran into stormy seas today. Congressmen from the great Middle West and from the Democratic South rolled up their sleeves and tackled it in earnest.

This was the first day in the House for the consideration of amendments and the rule under which the House operated made it possible for anything from tariff revision to the soldiers' bonus to be brought forward and urged as germane to President Harding's proposal to subsidize the American merchant marine.

Although the way is clear for nearly any kind of legislation under the guise of ship subsidy amendments, Republican leaders will try to throw out such proposals on the ground that they are not germane to the pending legislation. They will not have much difficulty there, but the real fight will develop when the House is swamped with scores of amendments having a direct bearing upon the ship subsidy.

CLARA PHILLIPS GETS LIFE TERM

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 27.—Mrs. Clara Phillips, convicted of the "hammer murder" of Alberta Meadows, was today sentenced to from ten years to life imprisonment in San Quentin Prison. Sentence was passed by Presiding Superior Judge McCormick, who sat on the bench for Judge Houser who is ill.

Mrs. Phillips accepted the sentence and answered the customary questions asked by the judge, with the same untroubled appearance she has maintained since her arrest and throughout the trial. She was represented by Public Defender Robert Scott, who appeared for Defense Attorney Bert Herrington, who is also confined to his home by illness. Scott submitted the request for a new trial without argument.

MAN HELD PENDING PROBE OF DEATHS

Bristol, Tenn., Nov. 27.—James W. Smith, 50, a grocer, his wife, their two-year-old daughter, Ruby, and their niece, Mrs. Deline Burchfield, and her son, Charles, 13, were murdered here and the house in which they lived burned over their heads.

Ben Burchfield, 41, husband of the murdered woman, was arrested at Johnson City and is being held in connection with the crime. He protests his innocence, but officers say his shirt and trousers were covered with blood when he was taken.

When the flames had been extinguished the charred bodies of the five were found in the ruins of the structure. They evidently had been beaten to death with an ax or some other heavy implement and the house set afire to hide any traces of the crime. Burchfield and his wife had been separated.

FEDERAL TAXES FALL OFF MORE THAN A MILLION

Report of Fiscal Year Shows Big Decrease in Collections

Washington, Nov. 27.—According to the annual report of the internal revenue bureau, issued by Commissioner Blair, federal tax collections during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1922, fell off almost $1,400,000,000, or 30 per cent, as compared with the previous year.

Income and profits taxes collected during the year showed a decrease of $1,141,000,000, or 35 per cent.

Total tax collections for the year aggregated $3,197,451,983, compared with $4,595,357,061 for 1921, while income and profits taxes for 1922 amounted to $2,086,918,464, against $3,228,137,673 the previous year.

Miscellaneous collections arising from taxation other than that on incomes and profits amounted to $1,110,532,618 for 1922, a decrease of $256,686,770, or 19 per cent. This slump, Mr. Blair declared, was accounted for mostly by the repeal or reduction in rates of various taxes provided for in the revenue act of 1921, effective Jan. 1, 1922.

The net expenditure for collecting taxes for 1922 was $34,286,651, which was equivalent to $1.07 for each $100 collected, as compared with 72 cents for each $100 the previous year.

"The difference in the relative cost of collection for the fiscal years 1921 and 1922," Mr. Blair said, "is due mainly to the large reduction in the revenues of 1922 incident to the shrinkage in business and incomes, the repeal of certain miscellaneous war taxes and various provisions of the law, such as the amortization of war-time facilities and the increase in individual exemptions contained in the revenue act of 1921, with the consequent reduction in the income tax liability of corporations and individuals."

Of the various revenues, tobacco and fermented liquor taxes only showed increases over 1921. Collections, other than income and profits taxes, for 1922, as compared with the preceding fiscal year: Distilled spirits, $82,598,000; fermented liquors, $46,000, against $25,000; tobacco manufacturers, $270,759,000, against $255,219,000; oleomargarine, $2,121,000 against $2,886,000; capital stock tax, including other special taxes, $90,544,000, against $91,281,000; miscellaneous, including war excise taxes since 1917, $686,881,000, against $914,227,000, and sales of internal revenue stamps by postmasters, $14,616,000, against $220,880,000.

Approximately 1,250,000 income tax returns are received in Washington annually, Mr. Blair reported.

TIERNAN SEEKS ANNULMENT OF LATE MARRIAGE

Former Notre Dame Professor Leaves Bride of Day for First Wife

ASKS FORGIVENESS

Another Angle of Sensational Case Expected Monday.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 27.—The reconciliation of Prof. John P. Tiernan and his wife blew up with a bang today when Mrs. Augusta Tiernan began to suspect that the professor had returned from affinity land where he married another, only to avoid the pressure of a charge of bigamy.

Mrs. Tiernan telephoned Attorney George Sands to stop proceedings to have the professor's cross bill against her suit for divorce dropped.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 27.—Professor John P. Tiernan today was in action in South Bend that he hopes will untangle the legal web entangling himself and his two wives.

His first move was to be in Judge Chester Montgomery's court room where he was to request that his cross suit for divorce, which was granted Friday and then voided Saturday be dismissed. Then it was said, Tiernan will attempt to annul his marriage of Saturday to Mrs. Blanche Brimmer of Ardela, Ia., which was solemnized at Crown Point, Ind.

If both of his requests are granted, Prof. Tiernan in the near future possibly tonight, will be possessed of only one wife—Mrs. Augusta Tiernan whose sensational paternity charges against Harry Poulin, South Bend, haberdasher, first brought the amazing domestic tangle before the public.

The Tiernan divorce, which was annulled after the former law professor at Notre Dame had married Mrs. Blanche Brimmer, pretty divorcee, will be withdrawn, it was announced.

"I made a dreadful mistake," Tiernan said when his first wife quieted down after a 10-minute scene at the South Bend railroad station. "I have played the fool this time. I have made the very same mistake that my wife did."

Tiernan and Mrs. Brimmer had gone to Chicago for their honeymoon, which was cut short by the revocation of his divorce by Judge Chester Montgomery. Adding to the complications of his hectic romance with Mrs. Brimmer, Professor Tiernan said that she had expressed a doubt as to whether she was really divorced when she married him.

Professor Tiernan pondered the statement. Relaxing into tolerance he embraced his "new wife" and fondly kissed her farewell, returning immediately to South Bend.

Mrs. Augusta Tiernan, his first wife and amazing figure in the Poulin paternity case, awaited him at the station. When the train stopped and her husband alighted she wheeled on him. For 10 minutes she poured out a torrent of abuse.

Mrs. Tiernan's fury spent, the two took a taxi cab and returned to the Tiernan home. Later they announced that they had become completely reconciled. Their reconciliation, it was said, will be made a matter of record, and the Tiernan divorce suit and the cross complaint will be completely dropped.

Learning of Mrs. Brimmer's former marriage and her alleged doubtful divorce in Iowa, Tiernan's wrath turned on his late "bride."

"At a time when I was distraught with madness over the turn of events in 'Gussie's' trial I gave ear to the unctuous words of a designing woman," Tiernan said. "When I wired her that I had been granted a divorce she came to me on the next train. We met in Chicago. Friday we tried all day to get a marriage license. I bought her a wedding ring and a new hat. Finally we decided to go to Crown Point and were married there."

They had hardly started on their honeymoon, Tiernan said, when they began quarreling.

The Tiernans plan to forsake South Bend and sell their home, the scene of the violent episodes of the past few months. "Billy," the year-old baby whose paternity the professor denied, will accompany them, with their two daughters. The children, it was announced, will be placed in a Chicago institution until Tiernan locates a position with some legal firm.

MAN HELD PENDING PROBE OF DEATHS

Bristol, Tenn., Nov. 27.—James W. Smith, 50, a grocer, his wife, their two-year-old daughter, Ruby, and their niece, Mrs. Deline Burchfield, and her son, Charles, 13, were murdered here and the house in which they lived burned over their heads.

Ben Burchfield, 41, husband of the murdered woman, was arrested at Johnson City and is being held in connection with the crime. He protests his innocence, but officers say his shirt and trousers were covered with blood when he was taken.

When the flames had been extinguished the charred bodies of the five were found in the ruins of the structure. They evidently had been beaten to death with an ax or some other heavy implement and the house set afire to hide any traces of the crime. Burchfield and his wife had been separated.

FEDERAL TAXES FALL OFF MORE THAN A MILLION

Report of Fiscal Year Shows Big Decrease in Collections

Washington, Nov. 27.—According to the annual report of the internal revenue bureau, issued by Commissioner Blair, federal tax collections during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1922, fell off almost $1,400,000,000, or 30 per cent, as compared with the previous year.

Income and profits taxes collected during the year showed a decrease of $1,141,000,000, or 35 per cent.

Total tax collections for the year aggregated $3,197,451,083, compared with $4,595,357,061 for 1921, while income and profits taxes for 1922 amounted to $2,086,918,464, against $3,223,137,673 the previous year.

Miscellaneous collections arising from taxation other than that on incomes and profits amounted to $1,110,532,618 for 1922, a decrease of $256,686,770, or 19 per cent. This slump, Mr. Blair declared, was accounted for mostly by the repeal or reduction in rates of various taxes provided for in the revenue act of 1921, effective Jan. 1, 1922.

The net expenditure for collecting taxes for 1922 was $34,286,651, which was equivalent to $1.07 for each $100 collected, as compared with 72 cents for each $100 the previous year.

"The difference in the relative cost of collection for the fiscal years 1921 and 1922," Mr. Blair said, "is due mainly to the large reduction in the revenues of 1922 incident to the shrinkage in business and incomes, the repeal of certain miscellaneous war taxes and various provisions of the law, such as the amortization of war-time facilities and the increase in individual exemptions contained in the revenue act of 1921, with the consequent reduction in the income tax liability of corporations and individuals."

Of the various revenues, tobacco and fermented liquor taxes only showed increases over 1921. Collections, other than income and profits taxes, for 1922, as compared with the preceding fiscal year: Distilled spirits, including wines, $45,563,000, against $82,598,000; fermented liquors, $46,000, against $25,000; tobacco manufacturers, $270,759,000, against $255,219,000; oleomargarine, $2,121,000, against $2,986,000; capital stock tax, including other special taxes, $90,544,000, against $91,281,000; miscellaneous, including war excise taxes since 1917, $686,881,000, against $914,227,000, and sales of internal revenue stamps by postmasters, $14,616,000, against $220,880,000.

Approximately 1,250,000 income tax returns are received in Washington annually, Mr. Blair reported.

BANDITS' BULLET MAY PROVE FATAL

Dayton, Nov. 27.—Carl H. Bowser, 27, Crown Point, near Dayton, is in St. Elizabeth Hospital, Dayton, suffering with a bullet wound in his leg that may cause his death, inflicted by bandits who attempted to hold him up near the Dayton Soldiers' Home Sunday night.

Bowser was walking with his wife, when the two men approached and ordered him to throw up his hands. When one of them began searching him, Bowser caught the hand in which he held her gun, and it was discarded, the bullet striking him in the leg. Before help could be summoned and he could be removed to the hospital, he had lost considerable blood which makes his condition serious.

The bandits made their escape after the shooting and no arrests have been made.

TIERNAN SEEKS ANNULMENT OF LATE MARRIAGE

Former Notre Dame Professor Leaves Bride of Day for First Wife

ASKS FORGIVENESS

Another Angle of Sensational Case Expected Monday.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 27.—The reconciliation of Prof. John P. Tiernan and his wife blew up with a bang today when Mrs. Augusta Tiernan began to suspect that the professor had returned from affinity land where he married another, only to avoid the pressure of a charge of bigamy.

Mrs. Tiernan telephoned Attorney George Sands to stop proceedings to have the professor's cross bill against her suit for divorce dropped.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 27.—Professor John P. Tiernan today was to begin action in South Bend that he hopes will untangle the legal web entangling himself and his two wives.

His first move was to be in Judge Chester Montgomery's court room where he was to request that his cross suit for divorce, which was granted Friday and then voided Saturday be dismissed. Then it was said, Tiernan will attempt to annul his marriage of Saturday to Mrs. Blanche Brimmer of Aredale, Ia., which was solemnized at Crown Point, Ind.

If both of his requests are granted, Prof. Tiernan in the near future possibly tonight, will be possessed of only one wife—Mrs. Augustus Tiernan whose sensational paternity charges against Harry Poulin, South Bend, haberdasher, first brought the amazing domestic tangle before the public.

The Tiernan divorce, which was annulled after the former law professor at Notre Dame had married Mrs. Blanche Brimmer, pretty divorcee, will be withdrawn, it was announced.

"I made a dreadful mistake," Tiernan said when his first wife quieted down after a 10-minute scene at the South Bend railroad station. "I have played the fool this time. I have made the very same mistake that my wife did."

Tiernan and Mrs. Brimmer had gone to Chicago for their honeymoon, which was cut short by the revocation of his divorce by Judge Chester Montgomery. Adding to the complications of his hectic romance with Mrs. Blimmer, Professor Tiernan said that she had expressed a doubt as to whether she was really divorced when she married him.

Professor Tiernan pondered the statement. Relaxing into tolerance he embraced his "new wife" and fondly kissed her farewell, returning immediately to South Bend.

Mrs. Augusta Tiernan, his first wife and an amazing figure in the Poulin paternity case, awaited him at the station. When the train stopped and her husband alighted she wheeled on him. For 10 minutes she poured out a torrent of abuse.

Mrs. Tiernan's fury spent, the two took a taxi cab and returned to the Tiernan home. Later they announced that they had become completely reconciled. Their reconciliation, it was said, will be made a matter of record, and the Tiernan divorce suit and the cross complaint will be completely dropped.

Learning of Mrs. Brimmer's former marriage and her alleged doubtful divorce in Iowa, Tiernan's wrath turned on his late "bride."

"At a time when I was distraught with madness over the turn of events in 'Gussie's' trial I gave ear to the unctuous words of a designing woman," Tiernan said. "When I wired her that I had been granted a divorce she came to me on the next train. We met in Chicago. Friday we tried all day to get a marriage license. I bought her a wedding ring and a new hat. Finally we decided to go to Crown Point and were married there."

They had hardly started on their honeymoon, Tiernan said, when they began quarreling.

The Tiernans plan to forsake South Bend and sell their home, the scene of the violent episodes of the past few months. "Billy," the year-old baby whose paternity the professor denied, will accompany them, with their two daughters. The children, it was announced, will be placed in a Chicago institution until Tiernan locates a position with some legal firm.

BRIGHT MUSICAL COMEDY PRESENTED

"Shuffle Along", one of the brightest and snappiest musical comedy offerings of the season, was presented by an all-colored cast at City Hall Theater Saturday afternoon and night through arrangements with the Standard Amusement Company of this city.

Clean comedy, and good music and dancing marked the performances, and the evening audience was the biggest house in the point of receipts that ever attended a production under the management of the Standard Amusement Company. Various applause bespoke the popularity with which the presentation was received.

John Vaughner, huge colored comedian, and his little partner, Eddie Connors, furnished much mirth, while the musical numbers led by Blanche Thompson, Hattie Christian, Nellie Brown and Theodore McDonald, were as good as ever seen here. Such musical numbers as "Love Will Find A Way," "Honey-suckle Time," "Everything Reminds Me of You," "I'm Just Wild About Harry," "Mary from Maryland," "Gypsy Blues" and others, were ably introduced and well received. Frequent novelty acts also interspersed the production, the "Syncopating Stenos", being an absolutely new feature that was a decided hit.

Noble Sissie, one of the author's of the piece, appeared here at the Bijou Theater several years ago, and has since risen rapidly in the theatrical world.

Her cargo is frankly, honest and openly booze. And she will not stop outside the three-mile limit to send off her cargo in small boats, or wait for secret shore signals or anything like that. ON PRESIDENTS AND PREMIERS.

Press dispatches of recent date have emphasized the difference between the American and English method of voting. For their important election, instead of going to the polls in November every fourth year, the English call one whenever the exigencies demand. It may be a political upheaval among the members of the premier's party or it may be something different, but whenever such an occasion demands, a general election follows.

There are advantages and disadvantages in the English method, advantages that transcend the American system and disadvantages that enhance the desirabilities of our own. An Englishman never knows when he will vote; one week election day may seem far off; the next it may loom uncomfortably close with little opportunity for campaigning. The sentiment of the moment holds, while in America it may be changed by a comfortable several months of efficient appeal.

As regularly as the sun, the Yankee goes to the polls every fourth year. On the first Tuesday he marks his opinion on a ballot. A president may invoke the wrath of three-fourths of the citizenry by his actions, yet unless they be treasonous, his office is secure until its tenure expires. If he dies, a vice president takes his place.

They may like their way over there, but to us our's seems more simple and direct.

CLEMENCEAU CRITICISED FOR HIS CRITICISM OF US.

Georges Clemenceau laid at the door of the United States blame for all the unrest in which Europe now seethes. Speaking before his second New York audience—an audience of business men—at the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York, the aged French War Premier declared that America had left France "in the lurch" after the war.

Criticism of Georges Clemenceau, of France, by Republicans and Democrats, pro-Leaguers and anti-Leaguers, isolationists and participationists, was expressed by Senators in commenting on his New York address.

The tendency was to challenge his statements and offer argument in return, although some Senators did take exception to advice being given Americans by a distinguished foreign visitor to whom courtesy was being extended.

Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, who led the Senate fight for ratification of the Treaty of Versailles embodying the covenant of the League of Nations, took sharp issue with Clemenceau.

"Now that Germany is a republic, I should think France would try to placate her," Senator Hitchcock said. "I should like to ask Clemenceau why France continues to provoke Germany? Why, for instance, she keeps 30,000 black troops on German soil, and why she persists in doing things to arouse the Germans to resentment?"

Senator Borah, of Idaho, who gave the most extended comment of any Senator on the Clemenceau address, agreed that Europe was in a bad way, but he put the whole responsibility for conditions up to the "Tiger."

"I am unable to accept M. Clemenceau's argument," Senator Borah said. "He tells us that Europe is sweltering in misery. So she is. For her we have the deepest sympathy. But there is no man living more responsible for the present misery of Europe than M. Clemenceau. He, more than any other man, is responsible for the impossible and destructive terms of the Versailles Treaty. He more than any one else stood in the way of the American delegation seeking to mollify the treaty and make it so that under it Europe could recover."

THE FATHERLY HAND FOR MEXICO.

Mexico, in its chamber of deputies, rises to a point of disorder to condemn "imperialistic" America. She points to recent diplomatic communications and asserts she wants no meddling with her own affairs. The communication is a letter informing Mexico an oil bill is inadequate for America.

It was not so long ago that American expeditionary forces crossed the Rio Grande to put a halt to bandit activities which the Mexican government itself could not stop. Ever and anon a revolution bursts forth in that country. Banditry flourishes.

There has been no "imperialistic" action by America. The communication involved merely was sent in response to a manner that invited similar correspondence. The firm hand of Uncle Sam is extended gently to assist a neighboring North American nation in gaining stabilization; Mexico assuredly has proved she needs this helping hand.

THE EXTRA SESSION

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

Thanksgiving Day at the O. S. and S. O. Home was nicely observed. In the morning the children assembled in the chapel and listened to a most excellent sermon by Rev. Albert Read, of the First Baptist Church. The dinner at noon was fit for a king. Wintery weather marked Thanksgiving Day as it was ushered in this morning. The first snow of the season came down and when Xenians arose they found the ground white. Warner Bigger, who has been ambitious to see something of the world, will have his wishes gratified by becoming a naval cadet. He went to Cincinnati this week, and enlisted and will be sent to Norfolk, Virginia.

One of the most appreciative audiences that ever filled the Xenia Opera House, attended the Elks' minstrel performance last night. Mr. S. O. Hale was the director. Mr. Marcus Shoup was interlocutor, the end men with the bones were Messrs. Charles Schmidt, George Kingsbury, and H. H. Schlesinger, and with the tambos, were Messrs. Lester John, Harry Kiernan, and George Swartz. The chorus men were Walter Harner, Will McGervy, Charles Fisher, George Grottenick, Fisk Alexander, Alvira Conklin, J. H. Dickey, Horace Zell, Ed Davidson, Will Pettigrew, James Scott, Charles Weaver, W. E. Kiser and Thomas Berry.

THE EGG AS BEAUTIFIER

Even when eggs are expensive they are cheap as a shampoo. It is impossible to over-estimate their value in making the hair healthier and more beautiful. The yolk of the egg contains iron and sulphur, both natural foods for the scalp; the white is a mild alkali which mingles with the oils exuded from the pores of the scalp forming a mixture something like soap. It is this chemical action which makes the hair wash so much more easily as soon as you begin to use soap and water.

Some people advocate mixing a after one or two soapings. In any ordinary shampoo the head should be soaped from three to five times, but with an egg shampoo only two or three times.

It will not need so much rinsing either, though a great many changes of water are always necessary to take all soap and grease from the scalp. The result will be life-like glossy hair.

Vera—The preparations you mention are always dyes although they have some henna added to them. Henna will only produce the Titan shades so all other colors are dyes, with the henna having very little value beyond the use of the name. The only nature to restore your hair to its natural color. After a month the hair will look more natural and the worst of the dye will have bleached out.

The hair will then begin to have a natural gloss and the worst is over; after this, the improvement will go on rapidly, as the new hair should grow out from the scalp at the rate of an inch a month. It is advisable to cut off as much of the hair as possible as that eliminates much of the dyed hair and hastens the recovery.

Oh, children, you have gleaming fangs, such as I used to wear, and you will sidestep future pangs by giving them due care. Once I could eat the toughest steak the boarding houses knew, and not a shining tooth would break, or be pushed out of true. The railway doughnut I could gnaw, and not a tooth would spring my jaw was like a crosscut saw that shears through everything. I did not give my teeth the care that they deserved, my dears, and in the dentist's padded chair I spend my wintry years. The dentist struggles wildly well to cheer me, in his coop; he's made me teeth of tortoiseshell, with which I chew my soup. And I can eat a pull of mush if it is not boiled too hard, but waiters to me no more rush with beefsteak by the yard. My hand-made teeth work to and fro, and slither up and down; they're always hurting as I go around the heedless town. And when I'd sing a dulcet note, or heave a statewide smile, the blamed things slide down my throat and strangle me a while. In spite of me my spirit sags, although I strive to grin; my mouth is full of concrete snags attached to plates of tin. So, children guard your pearly teeth, for when they are no more, not miser's hoard nor poet's wreath your gladness can restore.

On Eating Alone
I always speculate on the sight of a man or woman eating alone. Whenever I go into a public eating place, my eyes drop to such a one. I often eat alone—and it is always the saddest and most unhappy hour of the day. There are many forms of religious service that are particularly impressive. I refer to but one—the Lord's Supper. My father being a minister, I was early schooled in the forms of the church. And altho I now look upon many as being far from the simple teaching of Christ, Himself, I am particularly fond of this form of remembrance. Being among the loneliest of men, I cannot help but feel that Jesus was most happy when He sat down with His disciples—to eat. To me, the sad thing about Thanksgiving is that so many are compelled to eat alone. I think it most beautiful for every family or person, when it is possible, to see that someone else who might have to eat alone on the happiest of days, is invited in as a guest. I can drink in the real spirit of Charles Lamb and his roast beef writings when I imagine him surrounded by those of his kind, in brilliant wit and mixing of words I thought, Don't eat alone—if you can help it.

CIVILIZATION IN EUROPE IS GOING TO PIECES IS WORD

"European civilization is rapidly going to pieces," declared Dr. Hendrick Van Loon, former professor of history of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, on his return to New York City, recently from a three months tour of Europe during which he visited most of the war-torn countries.

"Bolshevism is completely dead," declared Dr. Van Loon. "Europe is like a lunatic asylum; history is failing to pieces; France is not so wicked—she is just damnably scared; England is the only ray of light across the water" fromized the author of "A History of Mankind," and other popular historical works.

"It is the historians of Europe and not the monarchs who should be shot," said Van Loon on his return, in blaming his brethren for what they insist on calling the correct scientific attitude on European politics and their "over emphasis on nationalism," which Dr. Van Loon declared is the root of the evil.

"If I had written my 'History of Mankind' three years ago," declared Van Loon, I would have been lynched. If I had written it two years ago the American Legion would have called me unpatriotic. Some people melt very easily. Others, being of finer metal, take a longer time."

Van Loon resigned his position at Antioch because of ill health, almost a year ago.

CENTRAL HIGH IN THRILLING CONTEST DOWNS SPRINGFIELD

Football history was written on the barren gridiron at South Side Park, Springfield, Saturday afternoon when Coach "Puss" Burger's Central High School football team, staged a story-book come-back in the closing moments of the fiercely fought fracas with Springfield High, and romped away with a 20 to 0 victory as the season's finale.

The black snow-bearing clouds of a bleak November afternoon were hanging like a pall over the windswept field, suggesting the omen of a scoreless tie, when the teams opened the fourth quarter and the Xenia "opportunists," taking advantage of the breaks and nursing impossible chances, started the chilled spectators with a series of scoring thrills that netted three touchdowns and two points after touchdown before the final whistle had proclaimed the game done.

A 65-yard touchdown race with a returned punt by Woolary as the final period opened, was the first indication that the game was not going to end without either eleven breaking the scoring ice. A few minutes later Smith snagged an attempted forward pass from mid-air and trekked off 50 yards unimpeded for another marker. The taste of blood inspired heights, and not to be left out "Tad" Randall clicked off 22-yards on the other side of the line a moment later. He made two of the extra points good with drop kicks and Xenia's scoring appetite was satisfied for the day. The fourth period reversal was one of the most sensational climaxes ever seen between high school teams.

Springfield outplayed the "big blue" machine on paper, in spite of the final score, Coach Matheny's charges got all the breaks in the game and the advantages from the officials in the first half but they lacked the scoring punch at crucial times. Twice Captain Dickson attempted place kicks in Xenia's territory that were unsuccessful. Springfield threatened again at the close of the second quarter when straight football gave them possession of the oval on Xenia's ten-yard line, and the Xenia line yielded but five yards in three onslaughts. It was fourth down and five to go as the timers' whistle ended the half.

Springfield garnered 17 first downs during the melee, as compared with two made by Xenia. Ten of Springfield's first downs were earned on straight football and two forward passes, while seven of them were captured through Xenia penalties, and credit for them goes to the generosity of the officials. Both of Xenia's first downs were earned on straight football. Springfield made six first downs in the first quarter, earning but one of them. They captured six more in the second period, earning four. They earned two in the third quarter and earned three more in the final period.

Springfield attempted eight forward passes, two of them being completed for a total gain of 39 yards, while one was intercepted by Smith and resulted in a touchdown for Xenia. Quarterback Art Currie called for but two forward passes. One in the first quarter was grounded and one in the final period was intercepted by Luse. Springfield attempted but one in the first quarter, and it was grounded. One of the two attempted in the second period was completed for ten yards. One of the three attempted in the third period was completed for 20-yards and four attempts in the final period either went wild or were knocked down by Xenia's secondary defense.

Xenia again had the worst of it in the way of penalties. The officials called Xenia player for five infractions in the first period and two in the second, for a total of seven penalties, yielding 45 yards. Six of them were off-side penalties and one was for "piling up." Springfield was penalized twice in the first quarter and twice in the third quarter for a total of 30 yards, twice for backfield in motion, once for off-side and once for pushing. Both sides were off-sides on one occasion and there was no penalty. Captain Dickson attempted two place kicks that were unsuccessful and Randall tried for a goal from field by a drop-kick that was blocked in the first quarter. Xenia earned another touchdown in the third quarter that was not allowed. Nigh was tackled back of the line, and fumbled, Randall snatching the leather and dashing 60 yards for a touchdown. The referee called the ball back on the statement that he had blown the ball dead before Nigh fumbled.

Seven lads who started and finished the game for Xenia, executed their "swan song" as wearers of the blue and white on the football field. Realizing the importance of having their final game go down in history unsullied by a mistake, these lads played like demons and left the field with the thought that they had done their best in the final encounter. It was gratifying to the fans to see that all of the points were made by seniors playing their last game. These seven men are Captain Don Currie, tackle and guard, who followed the ball hawk-like and with his big running mate, Bob Ballentyne who played terrific football, made no end of trouble for the Springfield backs. Cowan, a four-year end, and Smith, a two-year veteran at the other flank part of the game, had the pleasure of knowing that not once during the game did Springfield backs turn the ends for a gain. Randall, the deerfoot, another two-year veteran, left his last game assured that his running of the ends, punting and forward-pass defense work had contributed no little to the victory. It was the lot of Woolary, the flash of the season, to shine in the role of hero in his long touchdown jaunt. And steady Tom Hollencamp played the high-water game of his brief grid career at Central High, sparkling particularly in defensive back-up along the line, where he was called on time and again to stop the onslaughts of Brant, the opponents' plunging full.

Washburn, at one flank part of the time, shared with the other ends the knowledge that no end runs gained. Bob Yeakley, a three-year veteran at center, was all over the field and his defensive work was superb. Zell, playing his first season on the team, stepped into the breach in the final period when he recovered the fumble that paved the way for the last Xenia touchdown. Art Currie, another veteran who will return next year, coolly handled the trying job of quarterback until the opportunity to strike was at hand. Springfield has a heavy and aggressive line that charges well and was almost impregnable on defense. In the backfield however, the work all falls upon the shoulders of Brant, huge fullback, whose plunging was a feature of the day and who was the only consistent ground-gainer in Coach Matheny's offensive works.

The pastime opened in a flurry of snow, with Yeakley kicking off to Brant who was down on his own 25. Brant made nine, and Xenia was penalized five for off-side play. Nettie made four, then three, and Xenia was penalized 15 for piling up. Brant made two, and Springfield was penalized five for backfield in motion. Luse lost a yard and a pass grounded. Brant punted to Randall who was down on Xenia's seven. The ball was brought back however and Springfield penalized five for off-side play. Carter passed over Brant's head on the next play, and he was downed for a five-yard loss. Xenia taking the ball on downs on the 50, Hollencamp made two, A. Currie three and Hollencamp three more but both sides were off-sides on the last play. A pass grounded and Randall punted to Luse on Springfield's 16-yard line. Brant lost one when he fumbled, but Springfield got a first down when Xenia was penalized five for off-side play.

Nigh made four and Brant two, but Brant fumbled on the next play, D. Currie recovered on Springfield's 27. Randall made six in two attempts and Hollencamp went off tackle for six and first down. Woolary made four, then one and Randall lost two. Randall's attempted drop kick was blocked and Springfield took the ball on the 20. Helwig made four and Brant eight for first down. Nigh and Brant made but two yards and Brant kicked off-sides, but the ball was brought back and Xenia penalized five for off-side play. Luse made five, and Xenia was penalized for off-sides again. Nigh was thrown for a ten-yard loss as the quarter ended.

Brant made four, and Randall blocked a pass. Brant then punted to Woolary on Xenia's 20. Randall lost six and punted to Luse who returned 20 to Xenia's 40. Brant fumbled and Springfield recovered. Brant and Nigh made it first down, and Xenia was penalized five for off-side play. Brant made one, but Yeakley threw Nigh for a five-yard loss. Dickson attempted a place kick but missed and it was Xenia's ball on her own 20. Hollencamp and Holton were stopped and Randall punted to Luse on Springfield's 40. Nigh and Brant made first down, and a pass. Brant to Luse, netted another first down. Brant smashed through for 11-yards and a third first-down. Helwig made one and Brant four, and Dickson missed a place-kick, but Xenia was penalized five for off-sides, giving Springfield another first down. Brant made five, but Helwig and Brant could not gain on the next two attempts as the half ended with the ball on Xenia's five yard line.

Hickman kicked off to Hollencamp to open the second half on Xenia's 30. Hollencamp made three, but Randall fumbled and Springfield recovered on Xenia's 25. Springfield was penalized five yards, for backfield in motion. Nigh was thrown for a loss, and fumbled, Randall racing 60-yards to the goal with the oval, but it was brought back and given to Springfield. Hollencamp blocked Brant's pass, but it bounded into the arms of Helwig for a 20 yard gain. Brant made four and a pass grounded on the fourth attempt, Xenia taking the ball on downs. Hollencamp and A. Currie made eight, and Randall punted to Luse who returned 20 to Springfield's 47. Brant and Nigh could not gain, and it was Xenia's ball on downs. Hollencamp, A. Currie and Woolary again could not make the distance and Randall punted weakly to Brant on Springfield's 45. Helwig and Brant made it first down, Yeakley threw Brant for a six yard loss. Nigh made one, but Hollencamp blocked a pass, and Brant punted. The kick being partially blocked and recovered by Dickson for Springfield's first down. Luse was stopped and Springfield was penalized 15 yards for pushing as the third quarter ended.

With 25 yards to go and first down, Brant made two and Woolary two. On the fourth down Brant punted. Woolary caught the oval, dropped it, caught it on the bounce without missing a step, and raced down the side-lines for 65-yards and a touchdown. Randall drop-kicked the extra point. Don Currie kicked off to Brant on Springfield's 43. Nigh made four in two attempts, and Helwig and Brant made it first down. Brant then attempted to pass. Smith barely touched the leather, but it shot straight up in the air, and came down in his arms. His 50-yard run was unmolested. Randall missed the drop-kick.

Art Currie kicked off, but the ball did not have enough carry and was returned. Randall kicking to Nigh, Helwig was stopped, and then Zell broke through and threw Nigh for a six yard loss. On the next play, Zell banged into Luse, causing him to drop the ball, which Zell recovered on Springfield's 30. Hollencamp made two and then Randall, on a trick formation, raced around end for 23-yards to Springfield's five yard line. Hollencamp made one, and Art Currie sneaked for two, and then Randall dashed off left tackle for the marker. Randall made the goal attempt good with a drop kick.

Yeakley kicked off to Brant on Springfield's 35. Luse, Brant and Nigh, negotiated three first downs in succession after the kick-off. A long pass, Brant to Valentine, would have resulted in a touchdown, had not Valentine dropped the oval. On the next play Brant punted to Randall on Xenia's 20. Randall was stopped, and then Luse intercepted a Xenia pass on Xenia's 40. The game however, ended before hostilities could be resumed. The score was within two points of the 22 to 0 score by which Stivers, of Dayton, defeated Springfield, scoring all points in the final period. The lineup:

CENTRAL HIGH IN THRILLING CONTEST DOWNS SPRINGFIELD

Football history was written on the barren gridiron at South Side Park, Springfield, Saturday afternoon when Coach "Puss" Burgher's Central High School football team, staged a story-book come-back in the closing moments of the fiercely fought fracas with Springfield High, and romped away with a 20 to 0 victory as the season's finale.

The black snow-bearing clouds of a bleak November afternoon were hanging like a pall over the wino-swept field, suggesting the omen of a scoreless tie, when the teams opened the fourth quarter and the Xenia "opportunists," taking advantage of the breaks and nursing impossible chances, startled the chilled spectators with a series of scoring thrills that netted three touchdowns and two points after touchdown before the final whistle had proclaimed the game done.

A 65-yard touchdown race with a returned punt by Woolary as the final period opened, was the first indication that the game was not going to end without either eleven breaking the scoring ice. A few minutes later Smith snagged an attempted forward pass from mid-air and trekked off 50 yards unimpeded for another marker. The taste of blood inspired Coach Burgher's athletes to greater heights, and not to be left out "Tad" Randall clicked off 23-yards on an around end play and scored on the other side of the line a moment later. He made two of the extra points good with drop kicks and Xenia's scoring appetite was satisfied for the day. The fourth period reversal was one of the most sensational climaxes ever seen between high school teams.

Springfield outplayed the "big blue" machine on paper, in spite of the final score. Coach Matheny's charges got all the breaks in the game and the advantages from the officials in the first half but they lacked the scoring punch at crucial times. Twice Captain Jackson attempted place kicks in Xenia's territory that were unsuccessful. Springfield threatened again at the close of the second quarter when straight football gave them possession of the oval on Xenia's ten-yard line, and the Xenia line yielded but five yards in three onslaughts. It was fourth down and five to go as the timers' whistle ended the half.

Springfield garnered 17 first downs during the melee, as compared with two made by Xenia. Ten of Springfield's first downs were earned on straight football and two forward passes, while seven of them were captured through Xenia penalties, and credit for them goes to the generosity of the officials. Both of Xenia's first downs were earned on straight football. Springfield made six first downs in the first quarter, earning but one of them. They captured six more in the second period, earning four. They earned two in the third quarter and earned three more in the final period.

Springfield attempted eight forward passes, two of them being completed for a total gain of 39 yards, while one was intercepted by Smith and resulted in a touchdown for Xenia. Quarterback Art Currie called for but two forward passes. One in the first quarter was grounded and one in the final period was intercepted by Luse. Springfield attempted but one in the first quarter, and it was grounded. One of the two attempted in the second period was completed for ten yards. One of the three attempted in the third period was completed for 20-yards and four attempts in the final period either went wild or were knocked down by Xenia's secondary defense.

Xenia again had the worst of it in the way of penalties. The officials called Xenia player for five infractions in the first period and two in the second, for a total of seven penalties, yielding 45 yards. Six of them were off-side penalties and one was for "piling up." Springfield was penalized twice in the first quarter and twice in the third quarter for a total of 39 yards, twice for backfield in motion, once for off-side and once for pushing. Both sides were off-sides on one occasion and there was no penalty. Captain Jackson attempted two place kicks that were unsuccessful and Randall tried for a goal from field by a drop-kick that was blocked in the first quarter. Xenia earned another touchdown in the third quarter that was not allowed. Nigh was tackled back of the line, and fumbled, Randall snatching the leather and dashing 60 yards for a touchdown. The referee called the ball back on the statement that he had blown the ball dead before Nigh fumbled.

Seven lads who started and finished the game for Xenia, executed their "swan song" as wearers of the blue and white on the football field. Realizing the importance of having their final game go down in history unsullied by a mistake, these lads played like demons and left the field with the thought that they had done their best in the final encounter. It was gratifying to the fans to see that all of the points were made by seniors playing their last game. These seven men are Captain Don Currie, tackle and guard, who followed the ball hawk-like and with his big running mate, Bob Ballentyne who played terrific football, made no end of trouble for the Springfield backs. Cowan, a four-year end, and Smith, a two-year veteran at the other flank part of the game, had the pleasure of knowing that not once during the game did Springfield backs turn the ends for a gain. Randall, the deerfoot, another two-year veteran, left his last game assured that his running of the ends, punting and forward-pass defense work had contributed no little to the victory. It was the lot of Woolary, the flash of the season, to shine in the role of hero in his long touchdown jaunt. And steady Tom Hollencamp played the high-water game of his brief grid career at Central High, sparkling particularly in defensively backing up the line where he was called on time and again to stop the onslaughts of Brant, the opponents' plunging full.

Washington, at one flank part of the time, shared with the other ends the knowledge that no end runs gained. Bob Yeakley, a three-year veteran at center, was all over the field and his defensive work was superb. Zell, playing his first season on the team, stepped into the breach in the final period when he recovered the fumble that paved the way for the last Xenia touchdown. Art Currie, another veteran who will return next year, coolly handled the trying job of quarterback until the opportunity to strike was at hand. Springfield has a heavy and aggressive line that charges well and was almost impregnable on defense. In the backfield however, the work all falls upon the shoulders of Brant, huge fullback, whose plunging was a feature of the day and who was the only consistent ground-gainer in Coach Matheny's offensive works.

The pastime opened in a flurry of snow, with Yeakley kicking off to Brant who was down on his own 25. Brant made nine, and Xenia was penalized five for off-side play. Netts made four, then three, and Xenia was penalized 15 for piling up. Brant made two, and Springfield was penalized five for backfield in motion. Luse lost a yard and a pass grounded. Brant punted to Randall who was down on Xenia's seven. The ball was brought back however and Springfield penalized five for off-side play. Carter passed over Brant's head on the next play, and he was downed for a five-yard loss. Xenia taking the ball on downs on the 50, Hollencamp made two, A. Currie three and Hollencamp three more but both sides were off-sides on the last play. A pass grounded and Randall punted to Luse on Springfield's 15-yard line. Brant lost one when he fumbled, but Springfield got a first down when Xenia was penalized five for off-side play.

Nigh made four and Brant two, but Brant fumbled on the next play. D. Currie recovered on Springfield's 27. Randall made six in two attempts and Hollencamp went off tackle for six and first down. Woolary made four, then one and Randall lost two. Randall's attempted drop kick was blocked and Springfield took the ball on the 20. Helwig made four and Brant eight for first down. Nigh and Brant made but two yards and Brant kicked off-sides, but the ball was brought back and Xenia penalized five for off-side play. Luse made five, and Xenia was penalized for off-sides again. Nigh was thrown for a ten-yard loss as the quarter ended.

Brant made four, and Randall blocked a pass. Brant then punted to Woolary on Xenia's 20. Randall lost six and punted to Luse who returned 20 to Xenia's 40. Brant fumbled, and Springfield recovered. Brant and Nigh made it first down, and Xenia was penalized five for off-side play. Brant made one, but Yeakley threw Nigh for a five-yard loss. Dickson attempted a place kick but missed and it was Xenia's ball on her own 20. Hollencamp and Holton were stopped and Randall punted to Luse on Springfield's 49. Nigh and Brant made first down, and a pass, Brant to Luse, netted another first down. Brant smashed through for 11-yards and a third first-down. Helwig made one and Brant four, and Dickson missed a place-kick, but Xenia was penalized five for off-sides, giving Springfield another first down. Brant made five, but Helwig and Brant could not gain on the next two attempts as the half ended with the ball on Xenia's five yard line. Hickman kicked off to Hollencamp to open the second half on Xenia's 30. Hollencamp made three, but Randall fumbled and Springfield recovered on Xenia's 25. Springfield was penalized five yards, for backfield in motion. Nigh was thrown for a loss, and fumbled, Randall racing 60-yards to the goal with the oval, but it was brought back and given to Springfield. Hollencamp blocked Brant's pass, but it bounded into the arms of Helwig for a 20 yard gain. Brant made four and a pass grounded on the fourth attempt, Xenia taking the ball on downs. Hollencamp and A. Currie made eight, and Randall punted to Luse who returned 20 to Springfield's 47. Brant and Nigh could not gain, and it was Xenia's ball on downs. Hollencamp, A. Currie and Woolary again could not make the distance and Randall punted weakly to Brant on Springfield's 45. Helwig and Brant made it first down. Yeakley threw Brant for a six yard loss. Nigh made one, but Hollencamp blocked a pass, and Brant punted, the kick being partially blocked and recovered by Dickson for Springfield first down. Luse was stopped and Springfield was penalized 15 yards for pushing as the third quarter ended.

With 25 yards to go and first down, Brant made two and Woolary and Randall knocked down two passes. On the fourth down Brant punted, Woolary caught the oval, dropped it, caught it on the bounce without missing a step, and raced down the side-lines for 65-yards and a touchdown. Randall drop-kicked the extra point. Don Currie kicked off to Brant on Springfield's 43. Nigh made four in two attempts, and Helwig and Brant made it first-down. Brant then attempted to pass, Smith barely touched the leather, but it shot straight up in the air, and came down in his arms. His 50-yard run was unmoistened. Randall missed the drop-kick. Art Currie kicked off, but the ball did not have enough carry and was returned, Randall kicking to Nigh. Helwig was stopped, and then Zell broke through and threw Nigh for a six yard loss. On the next play, Zell banged into Luse, causing him to drop the ball, which Zell recovered on Springfield's 30. Hollencamp made two and then Randall, on a trick formation, raced around end for 23-yards to Springfield's five yard line. Hollencamp made one, and Art Currie sneaked for two, and then Randall dashed off left tackle for the marker. Randall made the goal attempt good with a drop kick.

Yeakley kicked off to Brant on Springfield's 35. Luse, Brant and Nigh, negotiated three first downs in succession after the kick-off. A long pass, Brant to Valentine, would have resulted in a touchdown, had not Valentine dropped the oval. On the next play Brant punted to Randall on Xenia's 20. Randall was stopped, and then Luse intercepted a Xenia pass on Xenia's 40. The game however, ended before hostilities could be resumed. The score was within two points of the 22 to 0 score by which Stivers, of Dayton, defeated Springfield, scoring all points in the final period. The lineup:

I'd Rather Make Men Than Money

This statement by a prominent manufacturer precisely typifies the policy of this University—teaching the fundamental principles of right and wrong; the moulding of noble characters; the making of men and women has been Ohio Wesleyan's principal business for four generations and shall be her guiding light for as many more.

By preparing 30,000 young men and women for life as well as occupation, Ohio Wesleyan has performed an immeasurable service to society. In making men and women, the University loses money. Therefore, she must depend upon society to discharge her obligations by providing endowment funds for the development of a larger and properly paid faculty; more and better equipped buildings; a more extensive campus, and many other requirements so necessary to continue Ohio Wesleyan's eighty years' record of producing strong upstanding, God-fearing men and women.

ROBBERS EFFECT ENTRANCE INTO STORE IN XENIA

Burglars who forced an entrance to the Xenia Candy Kitchen early Sunday morning, stole $20 in cash from three cash registers where it had been left since the night before for change for early morning business.

Entrance was effected by forcing a rear door opening on the alley, the lock socket on the jam, being forced off. From the rear room, the burglars made their way into the confectionary shop where the cash registers are located. A new night light was said to be out of order and not working so that they operated in darkness.

Ten dollars had been left in one register and $5 each in two others. Late sales raised the available cash to slightly more than $20 but a silver dollar in one register was overlooked by the burglars. The place is operated by John and James Maiavazos and the latter was working behind the fountain until four o'clock, so that the burglary had to be committed between that time and daylight. It was discovered by the candy maker who came to work at seven o'clock. Police are working on a clue that is expected to lead to an arrest.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about $2. Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

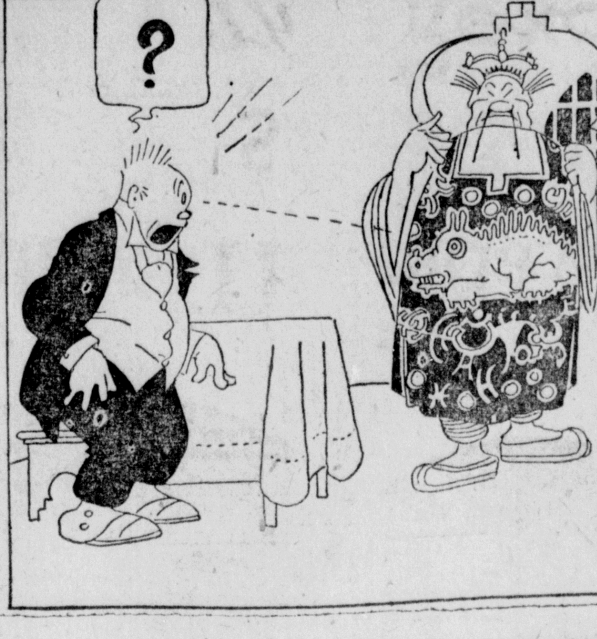

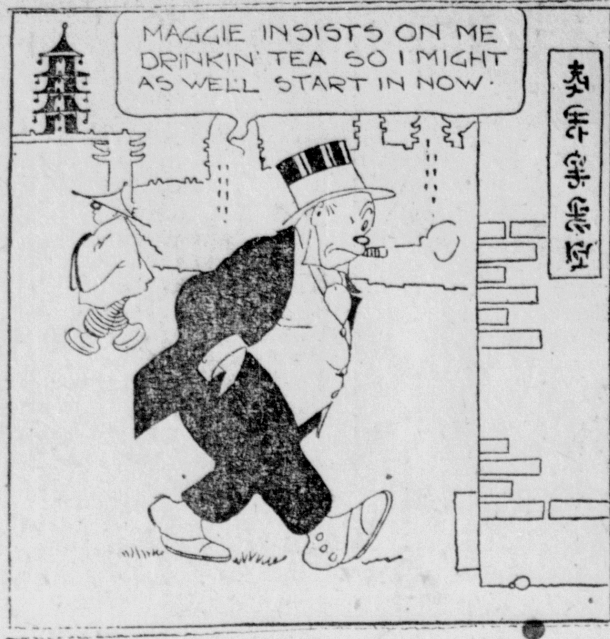

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

LAWRENCE PRUGH PASSES EXAM. TO STATE POSITION

Lawrence H. Prugh, of this city, son of John W. Mr. Prugh took the civil service examination ten days ago, and received the notice of his success in passing the test, Saturday. He received his appointment by his father, head of the department, Monday morning.

Mr. Prugh has been employed in the department since June, when he graduated from Denison University, Granville, being placed there temporarily until his selection on the eligibility list as a result of the examination. During the past three weeks, he has been employed throughout the Columbus district.

The state of Ohio is divided by Mr. Prugh, senior, head of the department, into several districts, three or four examiners being allotted to each district. Mr. Prugh's high standing in the test places him into an enviable position in the department.

Efficient Housekeeping

Can You Bake a Good Apple Pie?

Baking a good apple pie is not as hard a task as the inexperienced cook seems to think. But I would advise a housekeeper-beginner to use an oven thermometer in baking her pie.

Oven thermometers cost around two dollars and can be bought at most stores which sell kitchenware; or they may be bought by mail from a firm whose address I will gladly send any reader who sends me a stamped self-addressed envelope.

To make the crust, put one and one-half cups of bread flour into a bowl with one teaspoon of salt, and cut into this, with a knife, one-half cup each of lard and butter. When the fat is cut up finely and all is well blended, add two-thirds of a cup of cold water, stirring it in gradually. Turn out onto a lightly floured board and roll out into two equal halves. Roll each half separately, very thin, using one to line a pie pan and one to put over the following filling:

To prepare the apple filling, pare six medium-sized apples then cut each apple in half, then in quarters, then in eighths. Remove seeds and all of core. Put these pieces into the pastry lined pan and sprinkle them with one cup of granulated sugar and one tablespoon of ground cinnamon. Now place the upper crust on, pressing it well together around the edge, and stabbing it in several places with the tip of a sharp knife on top (this permits the steam within the pie to escape through the crust).

To bake the pie, attach your oven thermometer about in the center of the oven. Heat the oven till the thermometer registers 350 degree Fahrenheit. This is a very hot oven. It must be very hot when the pie first goes in, so as to set the pastry. But after five minutes of baking, the oven heat should be decreased slightly—so that the thermometer reaches not quite to the 300 mark. It is kept at this temperature till the pie is done. Twenty-five or thirty minutes is the correct time, in all, for the pie to be in the oven. At the end of thirty minutes the pie should be brown and the pastry light.

After all, the secret of good pie crust lies in the baking. And with an oven thermometer, one cannot go wrong. Fortunately, today many ovens doors are equipped with a thermometer, or other heat indicator, set in them; and these stationary indicators are just as good as one of the oven thermometers which hook or screw on, an oven grate.

To use any Fahrenheit Oven Thermometer: Bake custards and puddings at 250 to 350 degrees. Bake cookies at from 350 to 400. Make sponge cake, bread, gingerbread, and quick breads and plain cake, and popovers rolls and biscuits at 400 degrees. Bake pastry and biscuits at from 450 to 550.

"All My Children Have Benefitted From Father John's Medicine"

"Two years ago our whole family was sick with influenza and it left us all with very distressing coughs. We tried Father John's Medicine and soon we were all entirely well again. We have found Father John's Medicine to be very good for throat and bronchial troubles. My three children always take it for a cold. It has built them up so that they seldom have a cold now." (Signed) Mrs. J. Morgan, 3311 Lemp Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

Father John's Medicine nourishes those who are run down back to normal health. It is a pure food tonic and is safe for all to take because it is guaranteed to be free from alcohol or dangerous drugs. Start taking it today.

For the Cough that Hangs

You can use nothing better than Nyal Malt, Wild Cherry and Cod Liver Oil Comp.

It is palatable and does not, even to the most delicate, produce stomach disturbances or other bad after-effects. Under its influence new and healthy tissue is built up. Especially valuable in convalescence from acute diseases. (e. g., Fevers, diphtheria, etc.)

Chapters From A Woman's Life

BY JANE PHELPS

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters—Doreen Page has cause to feel jealous of her artist husband's model, Helen Ralstrom. Walter's mother, visiting the couple, also disapproves her son's attitude.

Grace a flirt, an "old flame" of Walter's whom Doreen does not quite trust, though she likes her, often places Helen in embarrassing positions. Page gives a studio party Doreen is unable to attend, due to illness of her mother-in-law. Grace borrows Doreen's costume, outshines Miss Ralstrom and is complimented by the host.

A dinner is given for Walter's mother at which Jennie, maid, accidentally spills salad into the lady's lap. Mrs. Page holds her poised—until the guests leave.

DOREEN DISMISSES JENNIE

CHAPTER 37

I hated to go into the dining room to breakfast. But I tried to look and act as natural as I made Mrs. Page good morning. She responded coolly, and when Jennie came into the room gave her a withering glance. As usual Walter noticed nothing and chatted away in a lively manner. He even brought up the subject of the party, repeating what Mr. Gordon had told him—that he had enjoyed himself immensely.

After he left Mrs. Page said: "You should discharge Jennie at once, Doreen. She is most inefficient."

"I know she isn't perfect," I replied, "but it is almost impossible to get a good servant—especially for general work. If we could afford two it might not be so difficult, but we can't. It might be weeks before I could find anyone half as good as Jennie."

"That's all nonsense! You have offices where they have girls that can recommend, haven't you?"

"We have offices, yes. But how much their recommendation amounts to is a question."

"Well, you give me a list of offices and I will find you a proper maid."

"But if I let Jennie go—and you don't find one, your visit will not be as pleasant. I can't attend to everything and go out with you."

"I don't know what to say. I was sure she would be unable to find a maid. I was determined to keep Jennie. Yet I knew by the set of her lips that she would try to replace her.

Suddenly the thought came to me to let her try. I would fix it up with Jennie.

I knew the wearisome task it was to go from office to office interviewing maids; the quick dismissal one received when it was found only one was kept, and that one expected to do whatever was necessary. So I at once fetched the morning paper and made a list of all the advertised offices. Walter's mother was so sure could find someone, it would be rather a joke on her when she failed.

An hour later with Fido under her arm she entered the taxi I had called. Before leaving she said: "You can give Jennie a week's wages in lieu of notice. If possible I shall bring a maid back with me, if not she will be here in the morning." I smiled as I turned away. It wasn't going to be so easy as she thought.

Then I went into the kitchen. "Jennie, will you do something for me?"

"Deed I will, Ma'am! Anythin' you say."

"You have a married sister, haven't you?"

"Yes, she lives in Yonkers. She done well, Nell did. Her husband's a plumber."

"Would you like to visit her a few days? Your pay will go on just the same."

"Indeed I would that! But—it's that old woman! She's mad because I spilled the salad in her lap. You can't get along alone. You'll get sick."

I couldn't explain my idea to Jennie a servant. I think down in my heart I was rather ashamed of myself but I was rather indignant at Mrs. Page for meddling in my household affairs,—that was my excuse.

Isaid nothing to Jennie of another

maid, nothing of Mrs. Page's errand. But as soon as the breakfast work was out of the way I hustled her off with instructions to remain until I sent for her no matter how long. She should have her full pay.

What she mistrusted I neither knew nor cared. She was quick-witted and probably guessed something very near the truth.

It Was His Lucky Day, Says This Reading Man

"Tanlac has put me in better physical condition than I have known in ten years," was the emphatic statement made recently by Frank B. Frey, 132 Pear St., Reading, Pa.

"For three years I had been under the weather and then my strength gave out and I broke down completely. My stomach was all out of gear and my whole system in a state of collapse. In fact, for several weeks before I got Tanlac I was in such pain and misery from indigestion that I couldn't turn a wheel.

"I had no desire for food and I was so nervous and upset life seemed hardly worth living. But the medicine has stopped all my troubles and built me up to the best of health—a wonderful change after three years of suffering. It was a lucky day for me when I got Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

After all, the secret of good pie crust lies in the baking. And with an oven thermometer, one cannot go wrong. Fortunately, today many oven doors are equipped with a thermometer, or other heat indicator, set in them; and these stationary indicators are just as good as one of the oven thermometers which hook or screw on, an oven grate.

To use any Fahrenheit Oven Thermometer: Bake custards and puddings at 250 to 350 degrees. Bake sponge cake, bread, gingerbread, quick breads and plain cake, and cookies at from 350 to 400. Make popovers rolls and biscuits at 400 degrees. Bake pastry and biscuits at from 450 to 550.

Chapters From A Woman's Life

BY JANE PHELPS

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters—Doreen Page has cause to feel jealous of her artist husband's model, Helen Ralstrom. Walter's mother, visiting the couple, also disapproves her son's attitude.

Grace after, an "old flame" of Walter's whom Doreen does not quite trust, though she likes her, often places Helen in embarrassing positions. Page gives a studio party. Doreen is unable to attend, due to illness of her mother-in-law. Grace borrows Doreen's costume, outshines Miss Ralstrom and is complimented by the host.

DOREEN DISMISSES JENNIE CHAPTER 37

I hated to go into the dining room to breakfast. But I tried to look and act as natural as I made Mrs. Page good morning. She responded coolly, and when Jennie came into the room gave her a withering glance. As usual, Walter noticed nothing and chatted away in a lively manner. He even brought up the subject of the party, repeating what Mr. Gordon had told him—that he had enjoyed himself immensely.

After he left Mrs. Page said: "You should discharge Jennie at once, Doreen. She is most inefficient."

"I know she isn't perfect," I replied "but it is almost impossible to get a good servant—especially for general work. If we could afford two it might not be so difficult, but we can't. It might be weeks before I could find anyone half as good as Jennie."

"That's all nonsense! You have offices where they have girls they can recommend, haven't you?"

"We have offices, yes. But how much their recommendation amounts to is a question."

"Well, you give me a list of offices and I will find you a proper maid."

"But if I let Jennie go—and you don't find one, your visit will not be as pleasant. I can't attend to everything and go out with you."

"I don't know what to say. I was sure she would be unable to find a maid. I was determined to keep Jennie. Yet I knew by the set of her lips that she would try to replace her."

Suddenly the thought came to me to let her try. I would fix it up with Jennie.

I knew the wearisome task it was to go from office to office interviewing maids; the quick dismissal one received when it was found only one was kept, and that one expected to do whatever was necessary. So I at once fetched the morning paper and made a list of all the advertised offices. Walter's mother was so sure could find someone, it would be father a joke on her when she failed.

An hour later with Fido under her arm she entered the taxi I had called. Before leaving she said:

"You can give Jennie a week's wages in lieu of notice. If possible I shall bring a maid back with me, if not she will be here in the morning."

I smiled as I turned away. It wasn't going to be so easy as she thought.

Then I went into the kitchen. "Jennie, will you do something for me?"

"Deed I will, Ma'am! Anythin' you say."

"You have a married sister, haven't you?"

"Yes, she lives in Yonkers. She done well, Nell did. Her husband's a plumber."

"Would you like to visit her a few days? Your pay will go on just the same."

"Indeed I would that! But—it's that old woman! She's mad because I spilled the salad in her lap. You can't get along alone. You'll get sick."

I couldn't explain my idea to Jennie a servant. I think down in my heart I was rather ashamed of myself but I was rather indignant at Mrs. Page for meddling in my household affairs, that was my excuse.

Isaid nothing to Jennie of another

maid, nothing of Mrs. Page's errand. But as soon as the breakfast work was out of the way I hustled her off with instructions to remain until I sent for her no matter how long.

She should have her full pay. What she mistreated I neither knew nor cared. She was quick-witted and probably guessed something very near the truth.

It Was His Lucky Day, Says This Reading Man

"Tanlac has put me in better physical condition than I have known in ten years," was the emphatic statement made recently by Frank B. Frey, 132 Pear St., Reading, Pa. "For three years I had been under the weather and then my strength gave out and I broke down completely. My stomach was all out of gear and my whole system in a state of collapse. In fact, for several weeks before I got Tanlac I was in such pain and misery from indigestion that I couldn't turn a wheel."

"I had no desire for food and I was so nervous and upset life seemed hardly worth living. But the medicine has stopped all my troubles and built me up to the best of health—a wonderful change after three years of suffering. It was a lucky day for me when I got Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. adv
